

Self Assessment: Evolving

	Yes	No	Sometimes or Somewhat
We practice common sense leadership – We change things that aren't delivering the results we expect	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
We question the premise – We ask, "Is there a better way?"	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
We regularly exercise applied and practical creativity company-wide – problem-solving is not limited to a few people	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
We avoid assigning judgment too early – we're flexible as appropriate	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
We won't compromise our values, but we appreciate that mistakes can lead to breakthroughs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
We empower our people to make good decisions, and we challenge them to grow	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
We look outside our industry for practices we can adapt to our business	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
